THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Dr. King often pointed out that it was Jesus' Sermon on the Mount that inspired the "dignified social action" of the civil rights movement. His notion of "creative suffering" – borne by civil rights activists who endured persecution and police brutality - came from his Christian faith in the redemptive suffering of Jesus.

Dr. King dreamed of a day when America lives up to its creed, when all people sit together at one table, and when freedom and justice reign. His famous "I have a dream" speech reaches its highest point with echoes of the prophet Isaiah: "I have a dream that one day every valley shall be exalted, every hill and mountain shall be made low ... and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together."

In words of the prophet Micah, he hoped that one day all persons elected to public office will "do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with God." His hope for an end to war was rooted in Isaiah's vision that people will "beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks." Biblical promises of "peace on earth and goodwill toward all" were Dr. King's antidote to despair.

In what was to be his last speech, Dr. King drew from the biblical story of Moses: "Like anybody, I would like to live a long life ... But I'm not concerned about that now. I just want to do God's will. And He's allowed me to go up to the mountain, and I've looked over, and I've seen the promised land. I may not get there with you, but I want you to know tonight that we as a people will get to the promised land."

CHILDREN'S CHURCH

What We Believe - Qué Creemos

We believe in all the teachings of the historical Christian faith, including the inerrancy and authority of the Bible; salvation not by works, but by God's grace through one's personal faith in Christ Jesus; and the need to tell others about Him.

Creemos en todas las enseñanzas de la fe cristiana histórica, incluyendo la so la autoridad de la biblia; salvación no por hobras, sino por la misericordia de Dios. Por la fe en Cristo Iesús, y la necesidad de compartir su palabra.
